Ms. Montouri has been an excellent English teacher in the high school for the past ten years. Between the grammar, spelling, sentence structure, and literary terms, this amazing woman has transformed all of her students into excellent learners. She has made such a positive influence in so many children's lives, with her incredible amounts of energy and her magnificent smile. Whether it be homework, resumés, or recommendation letters, Ms. Montouri is always available to help her students with whatever they need. She can brighten anyone's day, and it is for that reason that the class of 2005 chose to dedicate their yearbook to this exceptionally remarkable English teacher.

"There is no end to the adventures we can have if only we seek them with our eyes open." –Nehru

When I first came here I wondered as I walked up the corridor to my first period class: This is a pretty small school. And that was before I realized that the hallway past the library wasn't even part of the high school; it was the middle school. I only came to West Boylston in the tenth grade, but I must admit that being here has been a pretty enjoyable time for me for the most part. Being here for three years, I found that some of the things you learn in school have nothing to do with academics or any of your classes. You learn about life, and much of the time these lessons are more important than lectures on the interior of an animal cell or how to market your online business, or what complementary and secondary colors are (sorry if I just offended any teachers).
I would say that the most important thing I learned has to do with people. I've learned that you often make quick judgments about people and write them off based on a first impression or an unfair bias or stereotype, only to learn after you've been with them for a couple years that they are very much like you. I would like to thank West Boylston for allowing me many positive memories here.

Yes it's finally over now! We are finished with high school forever! I never thought this day would come soon enough. It's been a wild ride here at West Boylston with lots of ups and downs but it's turned out pretty good in the end. Who knows what the future will hold for all of us, but I can say that the class of 05 will be ready for it. I want to give a shout out to all the friends I made at West Boylston in the last few years that I have been here. You guys rock! Keep it real! Best luck to you all in whatever you plan on doing. Also I would like to say thank you to my parents and the rest of my family for supporting and putting up with me these past few years. I guess it is time to say goodbye. So goodbye to all my friends at West Boylston. Be safe...later everyone.

Hey! It's finally our last year in high school, and while I am VERY glad to leave, I know I will miss it too. I will miss running out onto the basketball court clad in my uniform, heart racing, palms sweating, music playing, and the adrenaline pumping. I will miss homecoming week and seeing all the great costumes. I will miss the crazy, last minute adjustments for Play Comps, but most of all I will miss my friends. Hey Kelly L., the carnival was fun, for the most part, and paddling was awesome. Hope to see you on the pond or on the mountain, either way I'll see you at U-Mass (maybe). And I'll use up the rest by saying hi to Sarah S., Lauren R, Lauren G., Nicole R., Heidi L., and everyone on the JV and Varsity Girls West Boylston Basketball Team; you guys did a great job this year. It's been a blast, but now we must go our separate ways! Oh yeah, mom and Chris thanks for everything.

In the 4 years that I have been involved with high school, I have experienced so much. I didn't know that in 4 years, I could be as educated and as aware as I am at this time. I would like to thank all the people who have helped me along the way. Thank you Jon, Sam, and Brian, you have always been there for me, and I will never forget about you guys. I would also like to thank my cousin Jarod. You have been like a brother to me and I will always remember that. My Aunt and Grandfather have helped me ever since I was a little boy, and I to thank you guys. My parents deserve credit for their ongoing effort to make me a better person and to guide me on a path of success. I love you! Last but not least, my girlfriend Becca. You don't know how much you have done for me. Thank you for showing me what true love is and always being on my side. I'm looking forward to being with you for the rest of my life. I love you.

To all my friends, I don't even have to say you're names, you know who you are. Most of my good memories from high school came from us just hanging out at lunch causing trouble. I won't forget any of you guys. If we ever lose touch, good luck with whatever you become in life, you all have the potential to be something great.

The years seem to fly, when you look back on them, but as they progress, it seems like they crawl so slowly that you want to scream and rip out your hair. But that's just one of Life's great jokes, isn't it? Disregarding the homework, tests, quizzes, and various projects...school wasn't so bad. Kyle, you're my brother, and I'll never forget the summers at your house...with no parental supervision:-). Vanessa, one day, you will get up and I'll be living on your couch, but that's expected. You've always been there for me, and I can't tell you how much you've meant to me. Nicole B., you are my twin in almost every way, I can't imagine life without you. Well, what can I say. This is it. The end of the path before we all take different turns into the realm of reality. Sure our paths may cross here and there but this is the time that they are all aligned and it's how we choose to keep them aligned. Some of us will like a chain between each other so that we never lose the path of a friend, while others will drift further and further away. I like to thank everyone in my grade for the support over the years. West Boylston has some truly blessed people. It would take me a while to name them but they know who they are; people who would hear me when no one would; people who would pick me up when I fell; those are the people that will always be aligned with my path. So, I wish you all the best of luck and hope that I am not forgotten as I will not forget you. As for myself, I will take whatever life throws at me and ride this life until the wheels fall off.

Amanda best friends since sophomore year, I don't know what I would do without your words of wisdom girlie! Call Boxes and Grandpappy, and God love Betsy and her shatter proof doors! Alie, lunch table forever, cruisin' in the Sebring, and breakfast at Denny's! You're an awesome friend. Joelle! Pizza at 1 am, did my hair block the alarm clock!? Don't forget the elephant song! Luv ya chica! Brian and Brandon, I kind of miss driving you 2 around everywhere, except for when you "clean out" my car! Jen, great times at Johnson and Wales, and running away from the tour! Well, high school is finally over. It was fun while it lasted but all good things must come to an end, right? But knowing that there are still many good times to come, we can forward. We've all grown so much over the years and we'll hopefully continue to grow where ever life takes us. Mom and Dad - thanks for always being there for me. I don't you what I'd do without you guys. Jon - I know you took a few wrong turns and never quite got back on the road again but I still love you. Heidi - what can I say? Life's been crazy with you...I love it. Nicole R. - I'll never forget the first day on the bus. We're siamese twins and we'll always be together. Lauren R. - we didn't make you weird, you came that way. Jess O. - I know we've grown distant over the years but I'm always here for you if you need a good listener. Lauren G. - good times in Spanish class, Jorge will never die. To everyone else - sorry if I forgot you. Good luck to you all!

I want to thank my parents for always being there for me and always encouraging me- I love you Mom and Dad. I want to thank Kevin and Kelly for being great siblings and always caring. I have always been told that surrounding myself with good people can only make myself a better person. I just wanted to thank all of those people who have made me a better person. Lunch table and Guys- Sam, Brian, Jon, Brandon, Diesel, Eli + Roy, Foley's, Kevin, Tac, Woody etc. Thank you for all the good times- dodge/ stickball, sox parties, WeBo softball games, etc. To all the girls who are so important to me: Vanessabeth, Allie's, Amandas, Colleen, Laura, Christie, Jen B, Janessa, Kelly and everyone else you know who you are. Tahanto Varsity Soccer- the best four years imaginable: Fear the Deer. The StuCo Gang- great times at MASC, etc. As cliché as it sounds, high school has gone by so fast and it's good to look back at events and people that have influenced you so much. Thank you so much to the class of 2005 and I wish everyone luck in whatever the next chapter in their lives reveals. Peace

We finally made it. It's our senior year and high school is almost over. It's been a great year, with a lot of fun times, and the Red Sox winning the World Series for the first time in 86 years. But really, I've had an awesome four years, both at WPI and West Boylston. The last two years have been great, meeting new people, but I still miss all of you back home. I've had a great time with all of you over the past few years, and even though I've been gone for the past two, I hope to see all of you before we all go off to college and what not. So, if I don't get a chance to see anyone at graduation, or when I stop at the school, good luck to you, wherever life may bring you; and never forget, we are the class of 2005!

Senior Year. It feels as though we were just yesterday walking down the halls to our first period freshmen class. First off, I have to thank all of you for staying with me through those times, you all were more amazing than I could have ever possibly imagined. Thank you to my family: Mom, Dad, Ben, Eliz, John, and of course, the Lord Almighty. And now for the memories we've all shared in... I only have 200 words max so I can't begin to explain all the times with everyone... Shumway and Christie! Bestfriends for life... so many memories! Ah yes the senior write up. So many things to say in such a strictly regulated way…I hardly know how to express myself. So many good times I can't count them. Thank you teachers for making my mind supple for the bountiful knowledge you have given me, and Mr. D for always listening to me…Mrs. Tetler, your forceful ways have given me a better appreciation for that art we call…art. As for my fellow nuggets, I think that most of you will do just fine in life and I tip my hat to you Eli tips hat. Thanks mom and dad for always being there. Always good times in soccer and I hope coach continues his passion for coaching as I have for being coached by him. Well, I'm running out of thoughts so I'll see you guys around and as for my extra special quote…

"I found a clam beside the sea
Inside a seedy sack.
I said to the clam,
Dear sir or ma'am, allow me to call you Jack
Will you come home with me for a cup of tea
And maybe a midnight snack?
For I have some nice Tobasco sauce
To pour upon your back."

Proud Of You!

Kevin,

You were such a happy baby that you made everyone else happy just by being around you. You looked for reasons to laugh because you loved to laugh so much. You were also very smart and incredibly observant. No one could get away with anything if you were around! And now you're almost completely grown up, about to graduate from high school - and you still make everyone happy just by being around you. You still love to laugh, and even though you're 18 years old, it still amazes us sometimes that we STILL can't get away with anything if you're around. You're going to do SO well when you eventually get out on your own. You're a wonderful kid who has grown into a wonderful young man and we couldn't be more proud of you. You can do whatever you set your mind to. We believe in you, and we love you very much.
